COTA

Council of Thought and Action
9 Centre ST., Hempstead, NY 11550 (Tues. & Thurs)
Martin Luther King Center
615 Riverside Blvd., Long Beach, NY 11561 (Wed)
(516) 572-1732 or (516) 743-0469
COTA@NassauDA.org

MISSION:

To Engage and coach formerly – incarcerated and at-risk individuals to become positive decision makers who actively formulate, implement and execute life goals.

To change old behaviors, enabling individuals to become impactful, positive influences in their communities.

Services Provided:

Membership in COTA begins with meeting attendance. Members are taught to be the “president” of their individual life (“corporation”), by first creating a 45-day plan with realistic goals. After, members then create a one-year and eventually a “life-time” plan. Each member chooses a “board of advisors”: trusted persons who can connect the member to resources and provide guidance through challenges. A case manager assists members to all necessary resources.

All COTA Members are helped to identify inhibiting issues and learn healthier coping and decision-making skills.

Outstanding Results:

COTA members have successfully earned high school equivalency diplomas and college degrees, completed vocational skills curriculums, overcome chemical dependencies, and obtained internships and long-term employment. They have become mentors and change agents for new COTA members.

In addition, COTA members mentor community youth through sports-mentoring; outreach to middle and high school students (who are at a prime age for gang inductions); and to youth in the Nassau County Juvenile Detention Center.

Prevention Resource Center

400 Sunrise Highway
Amityville, NY 11701
(631) 608-5014
<http://www.liprc.org>

Mission Statement:

Long Island Prevention Resource Center is committed to facilitating partnerships among schools, communities and prevention providers to focus on the provision of effective strategies to deal with alcohol, drug, and tobacco abuse and problem gambling.

The PRC strives to meet this challenge by collaborating with community-based providers gathered to form strong local coalitions. The PRC functions as a centralized clearinghouse of resources for youth, parents, professionals, treatment providers, educators, the media and the general public. We provide this education through a comprehensive continuum of resources, trainings, and community-related services. We serve as a liaison to support coalitions and prevention providers with the integration of prevention science to practice.

The PRC utilizes the Strategic Prevention Planning Framework to promote strategies that are designed to reduce risk factors confronted by communities and families. By reducing risk factors and promoting protective factors within communities, families and individuals, we minimize the negative effects of substance abuse.

MISSION:

Task forces are located in New York City and upstate counties and are designed to help individuals who are returning to their communities after release from state prison. Two state agencies - the Division of Criminal Justice Services (DCJS) and Department of Corrections and Community Supervision (DOCCS) – collaborate to oversee these Task Forces.

Each Task Force works with DCJS, DOCCS, county and community agencies, and human service providers to help eligible individuals get programs and services that meet their needs when returning to the community.
